BOSTON, May 26.-The situation in the wool market continues to be depressed and it is practically impossibie to tell what the market price really is. The new clip is beginning to be placed on the market. The movement in foreign wools has fallen off, although general asking prices are about the same. Fleece and territory wools have settled again and prices are nom-mai.

Territorial Wools — Montans fine medium and fine, 196/10½; scoured, 200/21; Utah, Wyoming, etc., fine medium and fine, 96/11; scoured, 20/21.
California Wools — Northern spring, 100/12; scoured price, 30/23; middle county spring, 10/21; scoured price, 27/22.

WALL STREET. New York, March 26.-The speculation today on the stock exchange was professional in the extreme, and even at that the dealings were on a more limited scals than for some time past, and the fluctuations in every instance nearly narrow. At intervals the trad-ing came to an actual standstill. Busihis came to an actual standstill. Business in Americans in London, after the holidays, was on a declining trend, the foreign dealers being sympathetically influenced by the change in the specules tye temper here yesterday from the firm tone that had characterized the late weak markets.

On the local exchanges the operations On the local exchanges the operations

On the local exchanges the operations for European account were on both sides of the market, with most of the orders, however, to sell. There was a dearth of news bearing generally upon prices, excepting a few crop reports, and railroad earnings, and a slightly easier tendency in money rates. This last development was largely due to the apathy in the stock market. The earnings were mainly favorable, but no stress was made upon an item of a decidedly encouraging character, namely an increasing movement of corn yesterday and today the receipts of that an increasing movement of corn yes-terday and today the receipts of that simple being on a much larger scale than during the previous week, al-though shipments still show a con-siderable falling off as compared with this time last year. The specialties were again the points of chief interest, with sugar and Manhattan the most conspicuous for irregularity in move-ment. The first mentioned stock was relatively active, and its course was relatively active, and its course was clearly the result of manipulation by inside interests. It scored a fractional decline carly and subsequently worked in an erratic fashion, but displayed an upward tendency in the late dealings. The closing was at a net gain of 1% The closing was at a net gain of 1% per cent. The net results were slight fractional decimes in most cases.

SHERMAN SAYS "NAY, NAY"

THINKS BEER CONSUMERS ARE NOW PAYING ENOUGH.

Vilns Reaches the Conclusion That the Consumer Pays the Tax, and Therefore the Proposed Increase Would Come Out of the Pockets of the Workingmen and Not from the Safes of the Brewers.

WASHINGTON, May 26.-Tariff and finance each came in for a share of consideration in the senate today. Early in the day Mr. Sherman succeeded in having the filled cheese bill taken up. California and Missouri the Chief whereupon Mr. Dubols (Rep., Ida.) offered an amendment adding 75 cents per barrel to the tax on beer. The senator said his amendment was intended to test the sincerity of senators

The bill and the pending beer amendment were displaced at 2 o'clock by the bond bill, which was advocated by Mr. Pritchard (Rep., N. C.) and opposed by Mr. Lindsay (Dem., Ky.)

A bill was passed to pension at 375 per month the widow of General George Spencer, at one time United States senator from Alabama.

WHERE HE IS AT.

Mr. Thurston, in view of his departture, owing to the sickness in his family, defined his position on a number of important pending measures, viz.: Favorable to the election of senators by the people; to the bill amending the law for punishment for contempt of court; to the filled cheese bill, and opposed to the bill prohibiting the issue of bonds. As to the last measure, Mr. Thurston explained that his opposition was not due to the principle of the was not due to the principle of the bill, which he might approve at another time, but he felt it was too late in the session to withhold from the administration the means of avoiding a monetary crisis.

As soon as the filled cheese bill was taken up, Mr. Dubois offered an amendment to the cheese bill, placing an additional tax of 75 cents per barrel on beer, porter and ale.

In supporting the amendment, Mr. Dubois said it offered an opportunity to Mr. Sherman to execute the patriotic purposes he had recently expressed without resorting to the Dingley tariff bill, an "unjust, unsatisfactory sectional bill, which career was transferred."

CREATED A STIR.

The refusal to table created something of a stir through the senate.

Mr. Vilas opposed the amendment, saying that the tax on beer fell on the consumer, a wage earning, hard working class.

Mr. Dubbis said senators declaimed for more research. He deplied that this for more revenue. He denied that this would place a great burden on the con-sumer of beer. Beer was cheap, two glasses for 5 cents, and the price would

Mills (Dem., Tex.) supported the beer amendment, and pointed out that the opposition came from senators who supported a greater tax on cheese, an article of food used by the poor.

Mr. Aldrich (Rep., R. I.) expressed gratification that the Democratic party had, by the vote just given, placed itself on record in favor of a high bee tax. It had been generally supposed that the browers of the country SUPPORTED THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY, not only by their votes, but in a more substantial way, and in return for this help the party offered a heavy beer

Mr. Nelson (Rep., Minn.) deprecated the movement to inject the tariff or silver question into this meritorious bill against fraudulent cheese Mr. Gray (Dem., Del.) said the cheese bill was confessedly not to raise revenue; that the beer amendment was most opportune to make the bill what it purported to be-a revenue matter. At 2 o'clock the cheese bill, with the beer amendment pending, was laid aside. Mr. Sherman announced that he would call it up as soon as the bond bill was disposed of ISSUE OF BONDS.

Mr. Lindsay (Dem., Ky.) opposed the bond bill. While he did not regard it as an act of repudiation, yet he believed it would lead to the suspension of specie payment within sixty days from the time of its adoption.

The bond bill was then laid aside.

Mr. Stewart (Pop., Nev.) asked that the financial report of Secretary Carisle in 1878 he printed as a document,

The cisturbance began in the forenoon, when it was learned that Lent's circus had arrived with beer and whisky on their floating craft, and were distributing it by the quart to people who lived along the river. The town marshal succeeded in partially checking the sale of intoxicants for some hours, but late in the evening the circus embut late in the evening the circus em-ployees again began their flicit sale, and the marshal with a posse repaired and the marshal with a posse repaired to the scene. The circus gang quickly gathered about the craft, picking up poles, sledge hammers, stakes and other articles and made ready for the posse. The marshal and posse advanced to the water's edge and a hand-to-baird battle, which lasted fully one hour, ensued. The number of killed was reported to be twelve, but seven only can be accounted for, and the wounded will number ten. Their names have not been learned.

Henry Dering, the English minister to the Mexican republic, arrived here last night from the City of Mexico.

In discussing Mexican affairs he said: "Business conditions are good in Mexico. Copper is being exported more than any other mineral product just at present Americans appear to have the lead in the smelting industries, while in the manufacture of cotton and woolen goods the Mexicans are making splendid progress. Silver is the money of the country, and the great premium on gold is tending to lessen imports and increase local production of cotton, jute and woolen goods.
